
 Student 1:

We stand today with hearts so wide,
For Gaza's children, side by side.
Their dreams are strong, their voices clear,
Though pain and fear are always near.

Respect and love can cross the sea,
From you and me to those in need.
A smile, a prayer, a helping hand,
Can bring back hope to their homeland.

 Student 2:

Let's raise our voices, loud and true,
For justice, peace, and skies so blue.
No child should cry, no home should fall,
Let's stand for Gaza, one and all.

Together we can light the way,
With kindness shown in what we say.
Respect begins in every heart,
And that's where healing truly starts.
